Kitchen & Bath Business wrote:

“White wood cabinets dominate kitchen designs, metal— currently a small segment of the cabinet market— appears to be emerging”.

We are proud to design and manufacture interiors that express values and ideologies, while playing such an integral part of our lives.

We are proud to define space with powder coated steel.

NEWPORT BEACH, CA

Perfect pairing of powder coated jet black custom steel cabinetry with a wood island.

The owner cut metro racks and had them brass plated to create open shelving; a detail we adore.

NEWPORT BEACH, CA

Black powder coated steel cabinets demand to be noticed and pair well with unique brass pulls.

The owner was in search of something bold and original, so we began with her kitchen and continued our collaboration with seven other designs throughout her home. The kitchen, crafted of steel was powder coated and paired with signature brass.

BROOKLYN, NYC

When a group of architects and developers buy projects around New York City, you wish for it to be something like this: 440 Atlantic. Their vision was a European aesthetic that paid homage to the metal materials throughout the building.

The interior had billowing metal beams throughout the eight units. Metal was an important material for this project as they wanted to see consistency throughout the space.

The kitchen island gives the illusion that it's floating because it has its own steel legs, as well as overlay doors-and-drawers.

Upon the completion of this project in New York, there was suppose to be a big gala celebrating the apartments but they sold out before they were complete. We were honored that Moya Living kitchen designs were a big part of that.

MOYA LIVING SHOWROOM

Powder coated steel base cabinets including framed glass doors to showcase favorite pieces. Tall cabinets to create complete storage system. Modern luxury.

LAGUNA NIGUEL, CA

The owners of this Laguna Niguel home decided to replace their inherited wood cabinets with long-lasting and design friendly powder coated steel, changing from the old L-shaped configuration to an island layout increasing the open feel.

The nickel hinged pulls from New York Hardware was chosen to compliment the white wall cabinets and rich granite countertops.

LAGUNA BEACH, CA

This 1932 Laguna Beach home called for a kitchen renovation. Black lower and white upper steel cabinets.

1954 restored O'Keefe and Merritt stove demonstrates how well steel pairs with old and new.

THE LOFT COLLECTION
THE CO-OP HUTCH

The Co-op Hutch can be placed as a piece of furniture to showcase your favorite pieces or added storage.

Available in sizes from 3 feet to 8 feet, in an assortment of colors and varying hardware

THE ROCKER

European kitchens are built to travel with their owners where they go. Allowing for more furniture than the traditional built in kitchens, The Rocker kitchen system is designed with this ideal.

PALM SPRINGS, CA

As a second home, the owners wanted a clean and simple layout free of fuss while still acknowledging the mid-century vibe that has made Palm Springs so commended. Instead of executing an expected white layout, darker color were combined with pockets of white allowing the powder coating to truly shine and white quartz counters provide a clean contrast.

BOISE, ID

A food photographers kitchen that features one of our best-selling powder coats, pretentious red. These tall cabinets allow for ample storage and we love the chunky glass.

KITCHEN CART

The Cart, our first release in The Loft Collection, is available in lengths ranging from 36" to 72" and may be paired with a steel or butcher block top. The convenient drawer with inserts can be tailored to fit specific size and function.

UPPER WEST SIDE, NYC

The architect responsible for this project scouted Moya Living to outfit the kitchen of this iconic Dakota, NYC apartment.

Stainless steel plate was utilized for uppers. A pull-out pantry provided ample storage. From marble tops to exquisite flooring, everything was placed with intention in this 1890 building.

NEWPORT BEACH, CA

Kelly Wearstler was the inspiration for the stacked boxes that make up the owners vanity. The pulls were supplied by Mod Shop, a favorite at Moya Living. We love the 1930's modern feel of this design.

SEAL BEACH, CA

Large hanging sink cabinets, powder coated in white are outfitted with large drawers for ample storage in this beach house restroom.

PALM SPRINGS, CA

This chic master bath features hanging white steel cabinets, white quartz tops, porcelain floors, and a custom steel vanity with pull-out makeup drawers keeping bath items clean and fresh.
